

SOMMERSEMESTER 2016

SIXTH DAHLEM SEMINAR FOR THE HISTORY OF ANCIENT SCIENCES

GENRES AND BEYOND

GATTUNGEN UND GATTUNGSGRENZEN

Dienstags | 18:00 c.t. | Topoi-Haus Dahlem, Bibliothek, Hittorfstr. 18, 14195 Berlin

26. April 2016

Giusto Traina

Can Plutarch be considered a military historian?

17. Mai 2016

Heinrich von Staden

Medical genres

07. Juni 2016

Lorenzo Verderame

Performing the king's watch: celestial observation and scholars at the Assyrian court

28. Juni 2016

Mary Bachvarova

Reconsidering path for transmission of liver divination again

03. Mai 2016

Andrew George

Father Sky and Mother Earth: the mythology of creation in ancient Mesopotamia

24. Mai 2016

Daniel Boyarin

From Apocalypse to Aggada

14. Juni 2016

Victor Gysembergh

Genre and knowledge transfer in the Greek extispicy papyri

05. Juli 2016

Nathan Wasserman

How to determine a genre? The funerary texts from Susa as a test case

10. Mai 2016

Francesca Rochberg

The Scientific Imagination in Cuneiform Antiquity

31. Mai 2016

Peter Machinist

Royal inscriptions in the Hebrew Bible: a problem and its significance

21. Juni 2016

Michael Streck

Altbabylonische Hymnen – eine literarische Gattung

12. Juli 2016

David Alan Warburton

The limits of knowledge and categories